Alleged Murderer of a Girl Commits Suicide Near Russellville.

An Ax Handle Trust Contemplated—Lunatic Suicides at Bowling Green.

THE LATEST NEWS BY WIRE

Russellville, Ky., August 23—Hugh Marshall, the man who was accused of murdering Miss Zoda Vick near here last Wednesday, was found last evening hanging in a barn about one mile from the scene of the crime. Decomposition had set in on the body and he had evidently been hanging for a day or so. It is not definitely known whether he hanged himself or was hanged by a mob, but it is thought by most persons that he killed himself. He was found by W. C. Bilyen in his barn near the scene of the murder. Excitement has subsided and people seem satisfied.

The body of the alleged murderer was buried by relatives in a pine coffin.

She had been adjudged insane, but owing to the crowded condition of the female ward at the Hopkinsville asylum could not be received at that institution.

Reported That Many of the County Committeemen Will Resign

In Case One of Chairman Charles Emery's Men Is Appointed Commissioner.

ATTORNEY CROSS TO RESIGN

It is reported that in case one of the five men recommended by Chairman Charles Emery as the Democratic member of the county election board is appointed, the anti-Emery faction will resign from the county committee in a body. It is probable from reports that they will have a chance to resign.

It is the general opinion that the present trouble seems to be that an element composed of former goldbugs and a lot of disgruntled fellows are trying to get control of the machinery of McCracken county, and the Frankfort crowd realize that it would be fatal to their interests to permit it, hence it is probable Mr. Emery's man will be appointed and that Mr. Emery be sustained.

It is practically certain that no attention will be paid at Frankfort to the so-called committee meeting a few days ago, and Mr. Emery will continue to be recognized as chairman of McCracken county.

Attorney Dave Cross will today tender to Secretary Will Lydon his resignation as a county committeeman from the North Side of the court house precinct. He is tired of the place, and does not care to become involved in the party bickerings that are almost continual. He will be a candidate for county attorney two years hence.

BANK BEING CUT AWAY.

MOBILE AND OHIO INCLINE AT WICKLIFFE IN GRAVE DANGER.

Attorney David S. Lansden of a law firm of Cairo, Ill., who are district attorneys of the Mobile and Ohio, was in Memphis Thursday on matters connected with his road. In company with Isaac B. Hudson he called upon Captain E. E. Winslow, chief of the United States engineers of that district, to direct his attention to the condition of the river bank at Wickliffe, Ky., where the Mobile and Ohio road has an incline. The Mississippi at that point has been cutting away the bank badly, and prompt action is necessary to prevent further and more serious damage. Being most interested, and believing that the remedy should come from the government, the railroad people preferred their request to Captain Winslow. The attorneys were assured that the matter would be taken up at once and given such attention as it deserved.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

TWO COUPLES TO WED IN THE CITY TOMORROW.

Henry Fareman, a grocer of the city, age 34 and Sallie Flynn, age 23, of the city, were this morning licensed to wed. It will make the first marriage of the groom and the second of the bride.

W. H. Darnell, a farmer of Marshall county, age 21, and Zebbie Shedd, of that county also, age 19, were this afternoon licensed to wed. They will be married here tomorrow by a Christian church minister and are prominent young people of that county.

With the addition of his brother to the firm the business will grow larger, as both have many friends in Hot Springs.

POLICE COURT

A Session That Will Yield About $1000 in Fines.

Hattie Pruett Waives Examination and Is Held Over Today.

Today's session of the police court was not lengthy, but it was very profitable. About 66 saloon keepers were fined $10 and costs for violation of the Sabbath, the total amounting to nearly $1,000. The fines and costs amount to about $14.50 in each case.

Hattie Pruett, colored, charged with stealing clothing from Mrs. Gus Tate's residence, waived examination and was held to answer.

The murder charge against Chas. Gordon, colored, for killing George Howard, a white man, a week ago in the county, was continued until Monday in order to allow the coroner's jury to investigate the case first.

Will Miller, charged with mistreating his wife, was recognized in the sum of $300 for his good behavior.

John Lowry was fined $1 and costs for a plain drunk, and Charles Jones $1 and costs for being drunk and disorderly.

Hattie Brannon was fined $1 and costs for a breach of the peace.

Mary Foot, colored, was fined $5 and costs for using insulting language, and recognized for her good behavior.

FULTON'S NEW PAPER.

The first copy of the Fulton Commercial, a new Democratic newspaper, made its appearance yesterday. It is published by Andrews and Green.

Business during the past week has been good generally. This is the time for the regular fall lull, and a great number of the merchants and employees are taking their vacations. The advanced fall trade has set in with the merchant tailors but the rush is yet to come. The retail merchants are buying fall and winter stuff and the wholesale merchants report a good week in everything.

The whiskey men are doing the usual good business, and the mills report a slight decrease in business. Most of the summer building has been completed and there are fewer houses going up daily.

HOTELS TO TEST

They do Not Like a Provision of the New Law.

The License Required Is Higher Than the Regular Saloon.

Hotel proprietors over the state are organizing for the purpose of testing the constitutionality of the section of the new revenue law raising their license for the sale of spirituous, vinous and malt liquors in hotels from $150 to $235.

The new license is $75 higher than an ordinary saloon license, and is, they claim, a discrimination against them. In several counties they have been able to avoid the payment of the increase by taking out their hotel license in one name and saloon license in another name. A refusal to permit this in some sections has resulted in the organization.

Proprietor Charles Reed of the Palmer house said he was asked to join the movement, but as his hotel has nothing to do with the saloon he declined.

TO ASSASSINATE SULTAN.

Vienna, Aug. 23—A newspaper published in Bucharest, Roumania, alleges it has been learned that M. Sarafoff, ex-leader of the Macedonian revolutionary committee, has organized a committee the object of which is to effect the assassination of the sultan of Turkey.

Manager J. E. Allen of the Postal has returned from a trip to Louisville.

The Shop Lifter Furnished With Transportation to Henderson.

Says She Will Never Come Back to Paducah as Long as She Lives.

TELLS HER REAL NAME

Leon Smith, after serving a short sentence in the county jail for shop lifting, was released last evening and this morning left Paducah for good, she says. She will never, she declared, come back to Paducah if she lives until the millennium.

She admitted before she left that her right name is Pearl Leon Morgton, and her home is in Nashville. She has been in the reform school there, and seems to be entirely incorrigible. Soon after she came to Paducah with a man named McCord, she stole everything she could find, including a gold watch. At one place she had a trunk full of things, and when accused of numerous thefts, she calmly took the boarders to her room and distributed the stolen goods around to the proper owners as gracefully as if she were officiating at a Christmas tree.

She claims that McCord, before leaving her here, took her money. She claims never to have been in jail before, but her actions betokened a significant familiarity with such places.

She is said to come of a good family, and was allowed every privilege admissible to a prisoner by Jailer Jones. When she left this morning she said she would never put her foot inside Paducah again, as long as she lived. She said she had but one friend here, Jailer Jones, and seemed to really appreciate his kindness.

The police understand that she has been a professional blackmailer in Nashville, and is a pretty slick woman.

She went from here to Henderson.

A NEW SHAFT.

THE OLD ONE ABANDONED BY THE PADUCAH SYDNICATE.

The Paducah syndicate, who owns Owen's Cave property, has abandoned the old silver mine for the present and sunk a new shaft farther up the hill, says the Smithland Courier. The old hole is near the Cumberland river bank and has been cleaned out by the new purchasers recently. It filled so rapidly with water that they were unable to keep it in a condition suitable for workmen to labor.

Mr. George Rock, of Paducah, one of the largest stockholders in the property, informed the Courier man that he believed his company would find lead and fluor spar in the new excavation in large quantities.

JUDGE O'REAR'S DAUGHTER DROWNED.

Cincinnati, O., August 23—A most distressing accident occurred last night at Fernbank, which plunged several families into mourning and furnished a sad ending to a day's enjoyment. Miss Mabel O'Rear, the 17-year-old daughter of Judge O'Rear of Mt. Sterling and Frankfort, while boating on the Ohio was drowned.

MRS. M. V. CRUMP DEAD.

Brownsville, Tenn., Aug. 23—Mrs. M. V. Crump, wife of Captain M. V. Crump, a prominent traveling man of this city, died after an illness of some weeks. Deceased had lived in this county all her life and was greatly beloved.

So Says the Coroner's Jury in the Charles Gordon Case Today.

A Great Deal of Light Thrown on the Shooting By the Inquest Held Today.

GORDON DID NOT TESTIFY

Coroner Peal this morning reconvened the jury summoned Tuesday for the inquest into the death of George Howard, the white man shot in one of the railroad camps near the city last Sunday, and the investigation was completed in the council chamber at the city hall.

Charles Gordon, alias Gardner, the Henderson negro charged with the killing, was present with his attorney, and as a result of the work of County Attorney Graves, quite a number of witnesses were present to testify.

The evidence showed, briefly summed up, that crap games were in progress throughout the camp, and Howard, the white man, who seems to have been no better than a negro, was handling the money, when asked to desist.

Gordon was in the crowd, and appears to have been the one who objected to the white man's playing with the coin. A quarrel caused the negro to draw his pistol. As he pulled it out it "broke," and as he pressed it to his arm to close it and place it in condition to be discharged, Howard, the white man, jumped up in alarm or anger, and threw his arms about his neck and swung to him, to prevent his shooting, it was presumed. It was when they were thus clinched that the negro fired the fatal shot and fled.

Howard, it will be remembered, lived but little over a day. Gordon, who declined to testify this morning, claims that Howard was a bad man, and that he shot because he thought his life was in danger.

The jury returned a verdict at 11:30 o'clock stating that George Howard came to his death from a pistol wound inflicted by Charles Gardner, and that the act was wilful murder.

Gordon's examining trial will be held before Judge Sanders Monday, and if the evidence justifies he will be held over for grand jury action.

Circuit court is only a little over one week off.

BEEF MAY COME LOWER.

SWIFT'S MANAGER MAKES A CONFIDENT PREDICTION.

St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 23—J. S. Bangs, manager of Swift and Co.'s plant at South St. Paul, said today that Ogden Armour's statement that the price of beef would not be reduced was incorrect. "The reason for the advance in the price of beef," he concluded, "was the scarcity of corn, due to droughts in Kansas, Nebraska and the Southwestern states. But now the grass cattle are coming in, and they are always cheaper than corn-fed cattle. We pay from 3 1/3 to 7 cents a pound for live grass-fed cattle, which we sell after removing hide, offal, etc., for from 6 1/2 to 19 cents a pound, while we pay from 5 to 8 cents for corn-fed cattle. The grass cattle commence coming in about August 1 and continue till about November 1. There is no reason why the price of beef should not be reduced under these conditions."

Dr. and Mrs. S. H. Winstead and son have returned from their trip East. Mrs. Winstead, who has been quite ill, was reported better today.

A NEW CHARGE.

WOMAN WANTED A WARRANT FOR SLANDER THIS MORNING.

Some of the colored people make peculiar requests at the city hall when they come for warrants, but today for the first time a woman called on Judge Sanders and after a great deal of mysterious, reluctant maneuvering informed the judge that she wanted a warrant against George somebody.

"What for?" asked the court. "For slander," she declared. The court informed her that he had been in business for a long time, and never yet issued a warrant for slander, and was sorry he couldn't break his rule now. He informed her that she would have to bring suit in some civil court and get damages.

As George did not appear to be a very affluent person, the woman didn't seem elated over the prospects of securing redress, and left, evidently much disappointed.

CITY OF PITTSBURG WRECK.

THE MACHINERY WILL PROBABLY BE TAKEN OUT SHORTLY.

The City of Pittsburg wreck is now almost entirely out of water, and it is likely the machinery will be taken out in a few days by Captain D. Morgan of Cairo, who bought the wreck. A great deal of work has been done in clearing out the wreckage, but it was mostly the cargo that was taken out.

All hope of ever finding the remains of the several missing people whose bodies were never recovered has been abandoned.

MOUND BUILDERS.

SKELETONS FOUND ON THE ILLINOIS CENTRAL RIGHT OF WAY.

A number of skeletons supposed to be of Mound builders or Indians have been unearthed on the Cairo extension of the Illinois Central, not far from the Indian mound on the McCutchen farm near the city. The bones are in a good state of preservation, and may be of Indians, who were later than the Mound Builders.

Uvalde, Tex., August 23—Several days ago a party of 15 well dressed Mexicans arrived at Oline, a small town a few miles west of here. They spent some time prospecting over the surrounding country and finally located a spot, where they began digging. At a depth of a few feet they unearthed an iron vault, which when opened revealed a great pile of Spanish gold coin. The money was counted and divided on the spot, in the presence of several reputable citizens of that neighborhood. These witnesses say that the find amounted to more than $100,000. It is asserted that the money was buried by a paymaster of the Mexican army during the war with Texas.

LOVE'S TREACHERY.

With Cupid I had often played
Since I was but a boy,
I found the cunning little god
A fascinating toy.

He never tried to play me false
And on this fact I reckoned,
So always followed eagerly Whenever Cupid beckoned.
One day he laid his bow aside,
And with a sudden dart,
He picked a tiny pistol up,
And shot me through the heart.
But when I called him to account,
By indignation goaded,
The wicked little monster said
He didn't know 'twas loaded.

A SEPTEMBER WEDDING.

Announcement was made this week of the marriage of Miss Virginia Lesh and Mr. George B. Hart, to take place on Wednesday afternoon, September 3, at the First Presbyterian church at 5 o'clock. This is the first of the prophesied fall weddings, and has a decided social interest as well.

Miss Lesh's graciousness and charm, as well as delightful musical talent, have made her a recognized favorite in Paducah's social life. She has lived here only a short time, coming with her mother, Mrs. M. E. Lesh, from Huntington, Ind., and making her home with her aunt, Mrs. Hubbard S. Wells of this city. She is a graduate of the Boston Conservatory of Music, and her delightful voice and skilled touch as a pianist have given pleasure to many, for she has responded generously to the varied demands made by an insatiable public upon her time and talents.

Mr. Hart is one of Paducah's leading business men, being the junior member of the large hardware firm of George O. Hart and Son, and is of an old and prominent family. He is a fine man, with many sterling qualities, and is a leader in the religious work of the city.

The wedding will be a pretty afternoon affair. The bride will wear white Paris muslin. There will be no attendants but the four ushers. Rev. Dr. Cave, pastor of the church, will perform the ceremony. The First Presbyterian church has been in the hands of the decorators all summer, so it will wear an entirely new dress for the occasion, an especially appropriate compliment, as both the bride and groom are prominently identified with this church. No formal invitations to the marriage will be issued in the city. The couple will go north on an extended bridal tour.

Miss Lesh is now visiting in Jackson, Tenn., where she is one of a house party composed of her especial girl friends at the home of Miss Anna Hayworth, a sort of farewell affair. Several of these friends will return home with her to attend the wedding.

THE "PRINCESS ALICE" IN WONDERLAND.

Miss Alice Roosevelt is visiting friends at Newport, and her costume at a recent "Casino hop" is thus described in the New York Times' report of "Some Charming Frocks Worn at Newport:"

"Miss Alice Roosevelt was in white lace and wore a narrow lace shawl over her shoulders all the evening. The skirt was gathered in at the waist and had two ten-inch ruffles, slightly overlapping, at the bottom. A wide belt of light blue ribbon was worn with stiff up-standing loops in the back and two long, straight ends. Her elbow sleeve had deep frills, and at each elbow there was a large chon of pale blue. This color appeared again around the top of the corsage and was seen dimly through the lace shawl. Her hair was done high but flat. Around the top of her head ran a tiny fillet of pale blue ribbon, and in front an Alsatian bow eight or nine inches from end to end and fully four inches wide, drawn together tightly in the center. It was set across the head from ear to ear, rising as straight as though wired, four inches high above the light brown hair. It was distinctive, but not particularly suited to her style."

A LOUISVILLE WEDDING.

Miss Mary Aylett Buckner and Mr. Herman Nettelroth were married at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Buckner. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. M. M. Benton, and was witnessed only by the immediate relatives of the two families. The bride wore a gown of white silk mull and Duchess lace. The corsage is made of tiny shirrings, with a yoke and front of lace. The upper part of the skirt is made to correspond and is separated from a deep accordion plaited flounce by a band of the Duchess lace. She wore a tulle veil.

After a trip to the east Mr. and Mrs. Nettelroth will be at home with Mrs. Emma Nettelroth, the mother of the groom, on Von Borries avenue, Louisville.—Louisville Times.

Miss Buckner formerly lived in Paducah, and has many friends and relatives here. She was quite young when her family went to Louisville to reside, but an older sister, Miss Pearl Buckner, was exceedingly popular here, and her wedding to Mr. Arthur Carey of Dallas, Texas, was an event of much interest in society.

THE WEATHER.

Fair tonight and Sunday warmer.

So Councilman Potter is to be elevated to the highest office in the gift of the people of Paducah! What's become of the woodcock now?

A man in Indian Territory cut off his wife's head because she joined a secret order. He must have anticipated that her action might prove a forerunner of late hours.

According to reports a big Eastern syndicate is buying up all the street railway and electric franchises in the South, and will consolidate them
all from Louisville to New Orleans.

The Populist party has almost played out. There were only seven at the national convention at Topeka Thursday. Most of the populists are now Democrats, the two parties being virtually the same.

A short time ago some of the so-called Democrats objected to "bol-ters" trying to run the county committee in McCracken. Now it looks as if the "bolters" are trying to kick
the other fellows out.

There are two or more "goldbugs"
on the list sent in to the state election board by the "county committee." If either one of them is appointed the Republicans may have an easy thing
of it in this county!

The Chicago police are still looking for Bartholin, the alleged murderer of his sweetheart. As they haven't yet proven the body found was that of his sweetheart, however, they probably want to get him so he'll tell them
what became of her.

Members of the city council cannot hold any other municipal office during the term for which they were elected councilmen. Those who are now in the council cannot become aldermen until the two years for which they were elected to the council have expired.

Some of the newspapers in the little country towns are howling because some one occasionally gets killed by a train, and are vociferously urging laws that will compel a train to slow up in every village it passes through.

If they would spend more space impressing on the minds of the natives
the fact that a train can't go around them when they are walking or sleeping on the track, the evil would doubtless be much more quickly eradicated.

"Mother Jones," the miners' friend,
says the women will organize a Coxey's army and march to Washington to demand that Congress settle the coal miners' strike if the strike is not settled by the time congress meets.
It seems that the easiest way the women could accomplish anything would be to get a good stout club and make their husbands go to work, instead of trying to get congress to interfere in something that doesn't concern it.

Mr. Russell Sage, one of the most miserly and avaricious old skinflints
in the world, says if something doesn't stop the trusts the people will rise in revolt. Mr. Sage is a multi-millionaire, yet he lives and hoards his money like a miser. It is these kind of men, who constantly grow richer and never spend a cent,
who are menaces to our government and against whom the people are liable to rise in revolt if they ever reach such an extreme stage of stupidity. The trust problem will solve itself if let alone. Combinations of capital are inevitable just now, and a satisfactory settlement of the trust question will be reached all the sooner if people cease their efforts to harass and delay them.

The insurance situation in Paducah, attention to which was called several days ago in this paper, has been somewhat aggravated by the recent communication to the city council asking for a reduction in the license tax. As to insurance, its details and expense, there is no use in wasting time and paper in fruitless explanations or observations. The companies, for reasons doubtless satisfactory to themselves, have combined to regulate rates, and if people do not like the rates they do not have to insure. It makes no difference whether these rates are exorbitant or not, nor what may be the cause of their increase, as long as they are maintained the people will have to pay them. The communication of the insurance companies to the council seems to be misunderstood. With rates already sky high, the $50 license charged them in Paducah does not tend to lower them here. This the insurance men know, and simply as a recommendation suggested that a lower license might reduce the rates, at least to some extent. The agents who submitted the communication do not make the rates, and can neither increase nor lower them, hence their suggestion cannot be regarded as a demand. As to the justice of their protest against the license, the people may judge for themselves. Paducah charges more for doing insurance business than any other city in the state except Louisville. The premiums paid here do not seem to justify it.
Furthermore, it is not consistent with the license charged other companies for doing business. The companies here do from $500 to $5,000 business.
Few, if any, reach the latter. They are charged $50 for the privilege of doing business. Some of the wholesale houses do half a million dollars worth of business a year, and are charged only $25. If every company had to pay $50 a year in every city in Kentucky to do business they would have to withdraw from a great many cities. All the local agents have asked of the general council of Paducah is that a decrease in license be considered, as it may have a ten-

ON TRIAL

Railroad Injunctions Called Before
Judge Husbands.

Arguments Were on This Afternoon—
Are Interesting Cases.

The injunctions taken out by the Illinois Central against Mrs. Lizzie Liebel and Mr. H. W. Rottgering, property owners on the Cairo extension, restraining them from further interfering with the work, went to trial
before Circuit Judge L. D. Husbands this morning, and will be largely a reading of authority and a hearing of argument.

The injunctions were taken out after the property owners had sworn out several warrants against the railroad contractors for alleged trespass. The railroad company claims that it has a right on the land, as it has been condemned. The property owners claim that they ought to be paid before the company enters the land, but County Judge Lightfoot decided that the company did not have to pay the property owners until the cases now appealed, are finally disposed of. The money was paid into the county court, where it now is.

This afternoon at press time the attorneys were arguing the case.

SHERLOCK HOLMES

IN NEW YORK.

"Will you marry me?" he said,
suddenly looking up from the paper
which he had been studying.

"Wh—why," she replied, "how you startled me. What has caused you to ask me such an important question so suddenly?"

"I've been looking over the tax
list."

"I can't see what the tax list has to do with our love."

"Your father's name isn't on it. He must be very rich."

Mr. Hardy Bryant went to Princeton today at noon on business.

ROUTE AGENT ABBOTT

He Has Been Working up the Case Against Would be Conspirators.

Boetner Is Known by the Memphis
Police—Good Case Will be Made.

Route Agent Charles J. Abbott of the American Express Co. has returned after a several days' absence. He has been investigating the case against Boetner and Schlietzenbaum, the men arrested at Fordsville on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the American Express company of $28,000.

Mr. Abbott thinks the company will have a clear case against the men. He says that Boetner, he learns, is well known to the Memphis police, and has probably been a confidence man, spending much of his time about resorts into which country men are lured and robbed. The other man was seen with Boetner often enough to justify the belief that they hatched the conspiracy together.

Express companies never count
money entrusted to their care for delivery, it being the law that the sender, in case it is lost, has to prove that the package contained the money claimed. No agent is allowed to count money sent in that way, except when it is delivered, and it is then counted by the one receiving it in the presence of a representative of the express company.

Mr. Abbott states that no employe of the express company saw any money in the package alleged to contain $28,- 000. He found that Boetner came to Paducah from Cairo, and went to Evansville from here.

MURDER MYSTERY.

FOUR PROMINENT CITIZENS OF
SUMNER COUNTY AR-RESTED.

Nashville, Tenn., August 23—A sensation that will spread like wildfire over Tennessee has developed at Gallatin, where four of the most prominent citizens of Sumner county and one of this city have been placed under arrest for alleged complicity in the assassination of Dr. A. H. Williams, who was shot down almost at his own threshold on the night of April 10, 1896. It is said that nine men altogether are charged with being implicated, but those who are arrested are as follows: Edgar Mann, farmer and stock raiser, Hendersonville; R. M.
Pierce, farmer and stock raiser, Hendersonville; Rufus Bell, farmer, Hendersonville; Haiden Dodd, real estate agent, Nashville; Harry Wherry, postmaster, Hendersonville.

FELL FROM TREE.

SON OF WILL WADE BADLY
HURT THIS MORNING.

The little son of Will Wade of North Eleventh street, while in a tree gathering peaches, fell this morning and dislocated a hip and a forearm. Dr.
Woelfle dressed the injury.

TORNADO IN NEBRASKA.

Hemingford, Neb., Aug. 23—A tornado, accompanied by a terrific rain and hail storm, passed along the Nibारा river, eight miles north of here, last night. It passed through a thickly settled country, and is thought to have done a great amount of damage.
Owing to a lack of communication details are lacking. It is known, however, that a number of residences and other buildings in the path of the storm were demolished.

WILY SULTAN.

INVITES U. S. MINISTER TO RE-SUME HIS VISITS, PROMIS-ING TO SETTLE ALL CLAIMS.

Constantinople, August 23—Through the medium of Izzet Bey, one of his secretaries, the sultan today sent a friendly message to the United States minister, John C. A. Leishman, assuring him that all the pending claims of the United States would be complied with, and begging the minister to resume his visits to the porte. In consequence of these fresh assurances Mr.
Leishman today visited the grand vizier, Said Pasha, and the minister of foreign affairs, Trefik Pasha. Mr.
Leishman and Robert S. McCormick, the United States ambassador to Austro-Hungary, will attend the salamalik tomorrow and probably will have an audience with the sultan.

DIED ON THE MATTERHORN.

Grindwald, Switzerland, Aug. 23—
The bodies of the Londoners, Rev. B.
H. and H. C. D. Fearon, and those of two guides who started August 19 to ascend the Matterhorn have been found by a search party near the summit of the mountain. Two of the party apparently were killed by lightning and two met their deaths by falls.

NOT WHOLLY A SURPRISE.

"Was his death unexpected?"
"Not entirely, I guess. At all events the widow had plans drawn several weeks before he passed away for an addition to the house to be built with the insurance money."

FELLOW FEELING.

"You're an astronomer, are you?"
"Yes."

"Shake! I'm a theatrical manager.
I wonder if you have as hard a time finding new stars as I have."

Ancient Artificial Teeth.

A mummy of an Egyptian king recently discovered has in its mouth a set of artificial teeth. The plate is of wood, and the teeth are knobs of brass.

FIRE AT THEM

But the Boys Gave the Officers the Slip Again.

Search Warrants Were Issued This Morning to Recover Lost Goods.

Mrs. Emma Thompson, of West Jefferson street, went before Judge Sanders today and took out a search warrant to recover stolen goods taken from her home Thursday morning.
She, with the remainder of the family, have been to Round Knob, Ill., on a visit and returned Thursday afternoon. They found that the house had been ransacked and that two colored boys did it Thursday morning. Cecil Smith and Harry Sanders, alias "Frog
Eye," are alleged to be the offenders.
Besides a pistol, razor and child's bank, a quantity of clothing was secured.

One of the boys left his dirty shirt and wore off one of Mrs. Thompson's shirt waists.

Officer Rogers got after the boys yesterday afternoon late, and one of them dropped the stolen pistol. The officer shot to frighten the boys, but if it did it only caused them to go the faster, and they escaped.

Today much more clothing has been missed and Mrs. Thompson went before Judge Sanders and swore out the search warrant. The boys accused are among the worst in the city, and have been arrested a number of times
for house breaking, and always released on account of their being so young.

An Extraordinary Woman.

One of the biggest women in the world lives in Greece, at a little village near Corinth. Her name is Vassiliki Calloudju, she is twenty-two years of age and her height is 6 ft.
7½ in. Her lovely eyes are said to be the largest ever seen, and her head, feet and hands are much bigger than those of any woman in Greece.

THE Final Sale

From August 25th to September 6th.

Aug. 23—Mr. and Mrs. Harbour are en route to New York City. Their last instructions were to slaughter prices to get ready for incoming fall goods. We clerks want to boom their business while they are gone. It makes them think we have their interest at heart. They have said cut prices and they mean it. It will be the amount of dollars we have sold and not the ones of profit. We have more that will interest them when they return.

New Fall Goods will be coming in each week and we will make exceptionally low prices to get them moving quickly. Will make it to your best interest to buy everything right here.

A great sale of Boys' School Suits for ages from 4 to 16 years—At $2 a suit, at $2.45 a suit, at $3.34 a suit, with double seats and double knees, made to fit well, look well and wear well. Our buyer took lots of pains in buying boys' clothing. It's first-class clothing—it's clothing made for department stores, where goods have to be first-class, yet have to be sold at low prices. The truth is if quality counts when you figure the prices, you'll be dead sure to buy your boys' suit here.

Cut prices—A great sale at 7 1/2c, 10c, 15c, 20c and 25c a yard. These embroideries have been reduced, some to half price, some a third and some a fourth. It's a clean-up sale at lower prices than we could actually buy these embroideries. If you'll need embroideries at all it will pay you to buy while you can get them at our present prices.

THEATRICAL NEWS.

The opening of the preliminary season of the Kentucky will take place Monday night September 1 at which time Manager English will take great pleasure in presenting to the amusement lovers of Paducah one of the strongest repertoire dramatic stock companies on the road, the Arnold Stock Co. The opening will be the great Russian melodrama "Lost in Siberia." In addition to this sterling drama the following specialties will be introduced: The up to date comedian H. C. Clark, the favorite baritone Clayton Macklem, the "hot air" boys, Ernest and Bert, the eccentric comedian Walter Lacy, that mysterious team Lattimore and Leigh, and the Herald Square quartette. The following is a partial list of the company: J. F. Arnold, proprietor and manager, J. J. McDonald, Charles J. Lammers, H. C. Clark, Walter Lacy, Hasell Gibbs, Ernest Lattimore, Bert Leigh, Fred Woods, Clayton Macklem, Harry Hall, Wm. Loop, Miss Miller, Miss Bowers, Miss Ward, Miss Glover.

Monday night will be known as ladies' night and the policy that Manager English has decided upon is a compliment to the lady patrons of The Kentucky. Each lady accompanied by a 30c paid admission ticket will be admitted free if ticket is purchased before 7 p. m. Monday. This is an innovation for a repertoire company in Paducah and Manager English believes that it will prove both profitable to himself and decidedly pleasant for the ladies that attend that night. Seats will go on sale at the box office of The Kentucky Saturday morning, August 30 at 9 o'clock, and as Monday, September 1, is Labor day, there will be an unusually large crowd in the city, and it is very reasonable to suppose that the house will be sold out entirely within a few hours after the opening of the box office. The Kentucky has been thoroughly overhauled and cleaned and will present a very bright, cheerful appearance on the opening night of the new season, and on account of being thoroughly equipped with electric ceiling fans it will be a delightfully cool place to spend the evening, even if the weather is still as warm as it is today.

Amusement lovers of Paducah are looking forward anxiously to the opening of the season, and with the bookings that are now held at The Kentucky the season of 1902-'03 should be one of the most prosperous of its history.

"Huckleberry Finn" will be presented early in November. Master Webb Baum, a grandson of General Green B. Baum, former commissioner of pensions, will play one of the important roles. Last season he made a great success in the star parts in the matinee performances at the Children's theater, Carnegie hall. He was seen by Mr. Twain, who was very much impressed by the boy's talent, and his engagement was the result of the author's suggestion. Another child's role, "Becky Thatcher," the sweetheart of "Huck Finn," will be played by Leona Gillette, sister of Viola Gillette, the "Prince Charming" in "The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast;" Little Miss Gillette is 16 years of age and has played child's parts for three years. She is a very talented and strikingly beautiful little actress.

It is stated that William Loraine has supplied some exquisite musical numbers for George Ade's latest work "Peggy From Paris," which Henry W. Savage is to produce early the coming season. Mr. Loraine gave the public a taste of his quality in his "Salome." On his part Mr. Ade is reported to have supplied Manager Savage with a libretto which is certain to become very popular as it is written more in the style of his "Fables in Slang" than anything he has yet done for the stage. There is no doubt but that Mr. Ade is the cleverest satirist of native birth that is at the present time engaged in writing for the stage, and "Peggy From Paris" is being eagerly waited for by his many admirers.

Every record for a summer run has been broken by "The Prince of Pilsen" at the Tremont theater in Boston in point of receipts as well as in the length of its run. This most pleasing musical comedy, which the Boston critics say is much nearer to the real comic opera than many of the entertainments which have been presented under that name in recent years, is now in its fourteenth week, a length of run never before dreamed of in the Massachusetts capital.

Gertrude Quinlan, who is to sing Chiquita in "The Sultan of Sulu" the coming season, was the original in the part. Miss Quinlan is an example of what pluck can do, for six years ago she was in the chorus of the Castle Square Opera company, and her advancement has been due entirely to her own unaided efforts. She is said to have a most remarkable memory and to have a repertoire of 75 operas, grand, comic and standard, at her fingers' end.

The Rogers Brothers will begin their fifth annual tour at the Star theatre in Buffalo next Monday evening, opening for a run at the Knickerbocker theater in New York Monday evening, September 1. Their vehicle will be John J. McNally's new vaudeville farce written for them, "The Rogers Brothers in Harvard," presented with new music by Maurice Levi. The company will number 80 people.

Tonight will be the last appearance of the Middleton Stock company at La Belle park this season, the company leaving at 1 o'clock in the morning for Lexington, where they open with their winter show. The closing offering is one of the best bills of their repertoire—"The Man From Montana"—and with fair weather will draw a large crowd. Next week the park will be given over to vaudeville.

Frank McKee, wife and daughter, and L. P. Phelps, his general business manager, arrived from Europe on Tuesday on the Kronprinz Wilhelm. Mr. McKee brought with him the manuscript of the new play by Clyde Fitch written for Mary Mannering, in which she will open her third season as a star at the Garrick theater in October. Miss Mannering returned on the Oceanic on Wednesday.

Jerome Sykes and the Klaw and Erlanger company that will support him in "The Billionaire," will begin rehearsals the latter part of this month, opening early in October in New Haven. This will be the most important musical production of the season, and, from the standpoint of scenery and costumes, one of the most pretentious ever staged in America.

Raymond Hitchcock, who is playing the title role in "King Dodo" is one of the thinking comedians of the stage. Mr. Hitchcock spends most of his leisure time reading "Plutarch's Lives" and Gibbons' "Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire" and his "History of the French Revolution."

Harry Gilfoil, the comedian and mimic, will be the star of "The Liberty Bells" the coming season. Mr. Gilfoil will play the part he impersonated last season—Uncle Jasper Pennyfeather, an eccentric inventor.

Manager English has received applications from "Down in Hopkins," mentioned yesterday as a new Kentucky play coming out of Central City in October, and will probably have it at the Kentucky shortly.

"The Sleeping Beauty and the Beast" open at the Illinois theater, Chicago, Saturday evening, the 30th inst.

Miss Nancy DuVal of Cincinnati, who won so many friends here during her short stay last winter, has accepted a position as teacher of French at Sayre college, Lexington, Ky. Miss DuVal is a talented linguist and musician and her charming personality will make her as popular in Lexington social life as she was in Paducah.

Mr. and Mrs. David B. Sanders and Mr. Edwin J. Paxton, who are "seeing the West" in a most delightful way, were at Glenwood Springs, Colo., this week, making a several days' stay there. They expect to be in Salt Lake City today, and after that will turn their faces homeward, arriving here about Wednesday of next week.

Prof. and Mrs. Edwin Mims, who have been spending the summer in England, expect to sail for home the 30th of the month. Most of their time has been spent at Oxford, where Mr. Mims has been doing some special work, but they have left there now for London, Paris and other places. On landing Mr. Mims will go directly to Durham, N. C., to begin his classes, but Mrs. Mims and son Edwin will make a visit to her mother, Mrs. T. H. Puryear.

THE COURIER OF THE CZAR

By Jules Verne

It has been stated that Ivan Ogareff occupied a room in the palace. It was a pretty large room, situated on the ground floor, and its windows opened out upon a side terrace. One need only step a few paces on this terrace to overlook the course of the Angara. A profound darkness reigned in that room. Ivan Ogareff, standing near a window, was waiting for the hour of action to arrive. Evidently the signal could only come from him. Once this signal was given, when most of the defenders of Irkutsk should have been called to the points openly attacked, his plan was to leave the palace and to go and accomplish his work. He waited then in the dark, like a tiger ready to spring upon its prey.

Meanwhile, some minutes before 2 o'clock, the grand duke asked that Michael Strogoff—it was the only name he could give to Ivan Ogareff—should be brought to him. An aide-de-camp came to his room, the door of which was closed. He called him. Ivan Ogareff, motionless near the window and invisible in the darkness, took good care not to answer. The grand duke was then informed that the courier of the czar was not at that moment in the palace.

Two o'clock struck. It was the moment that action had been agreed on with the Tartars, who were ready for the assault. Ivan Ogareff opened the window of his room and placed himself at the north angle of the side terrace. Below him in the shade flowed the waters of the Angara, which roared as they broke against the piles of the buttresses.

Ivan Ogareff drew a flint from his pocket and lit with it a piece of cotton wool impregnated with priming powder, which he threw into the river. It was by the order of Ivan Ogareff that torrents of mineral oil had been cast on the surface of the Angara. Springs of naphtha had been discovered above Irkutsk on the right bank, between the village of Poshkavsk and the town.

Ivan Ogareff had resolved to employ this terrible means for setting fire to Irkutsk. He therefore made use of the immense reservoir which contained the combustible liquid. He had only to make a few canals to draw in streams into the river. These he had made that very night, some hours before. The cotton wool had been cast on the waters of the Angara. In an instant, as if the current had been made of alcohol, all the river became a mass of flames, up and down the stream, with the rapidity of electricity. Volumes of blue flames covered the whole surface of the river and shot far up into the sky.

The few blocks of ice that came floating down the river, being seized by the burning liquid, melted like wax on the surface of a furnace, and the water, sent off as vapor, rose blissing to the clouds. At that very moment the firing began at the north and at the south of the town. The batteries of the camp of the Angara threw an uninterrupted volley of shot and shell. Many thousand Tartars rushed to the assault of the ramparts. The houses along the high banks, constructed of wood, took fire in every direction. An immense light dissipated the shades of night.

"At last!" said Ivan Ogareff. And he had good reason to applaud. The diversion which he had planned was terrible. The defenders saw themselves placed between the attack of the Tartars and the disasters of an immense conflagration. The bells sounded, and every able-bodied man of the population hastened to the points attacked and to the houses which were being devoured by the fire, which was threatening to communicate itself to the whole city. The Bolchaia gate was almost free. It was with difficulty that any defenders had been left there.

Ivan Ogareff re-entered his room, then brilliantly lit up by the flames from the Angara that overtopped the balustrades of the ramparts. Then he prepared to leave it. But scarcely had he opened the door when a woman rushed into the room, with her garments dripping wet, her hair in disorder.

"Sangarre!" cried Ivan Ogareff in the first moment of surprise and not imagining that it could be any other woman than the gypsy.

It was not Sangarre; it was Nadia. At the moment when, seeking refuge on the block of ice, the young girl had uttered that cry when she saw the fire spread over the current of the Angara, Michael Strogoff had seized her in his arms, and he had dived with her to seek even in the depths of the river a shelter from the flames. After having swum under the waters Michael Strogoff had fortunately put his foot on ground at the quay, and he had Nadia still safe with him.

Michael Strogoff was touching at last his goal. He was at Irkutsk. "To the palace of the governor!" said he to Nadia. In less than ten minutes afterward both arrived at the entrance to that palace, the massive stone walls of which were being licked by the long flames from the Angara, without, however, their being able to set the structure on fire. Beyond, the houses on the bank were all in flames.

Michael Strogoff and Nadia entered without difficulty into that palace, which was open for all. In the midst of the general confusion no one noticed them, although their clothes were dripping wet. A crowd of officers came for orders, and soldiers running to execute them bloated up the grand salon on the ground floor.

There Michael Strogoff and the young girl, in the midst of so great a crowd, found themselves separated from each other. Nadia, distracted, ran along the lower rooms, called her companion and asked to be led before the grand duke. A door leading into a room that was inundated with light opened itself before her. She entered, and she found herself unexpectedly face to face with him whom she had seen at Irkutsk, whom she had seen at Tomsk, in the presence of that man whose cursed hand an instant later would have delivered up the city.

"Ivan Ogareff!" cried she. On hearing his name pronounced the miserable wretch trembled. His true name being once known, all his plans would be ruined. He had only one thing to do—to kill the being, whoever it might be, who had just pronounced it. Ivan Ogareff threw himself on Nadia, but the young girl, with a knife in her hand, placed her back to the wall, resolved to defend herself.

"Ivan Ogareff!" cried again Nadia, knowing well that detested name would bring succor to her.

"Ah, you shall be silent!" said the traitor. "Ivan Ogareff!" cried a third time the intrepid young girl in a voice whose hate had increased tenfold the force. Drunk with fury, Ivan Ogareff drew a dagger from his belt, rushed upon Nadia and forced her back into a corner of the room. It was all over with her when the wretch, suddenly knocked down by a tremendous blow, rolled to the ground.

"Michael!" cried Nadia. It was Michael Strogoff. Michael Strogoff had heard the appeal of Nadia. Guided by her voice, he had arrived at the room of Ivan Ogareff, and he had entered by the door which had been left open.

"Fear nothing, Nadia," he said as he placed himself between her and Ivan Ogareff. "Ah," screamed the young girl, "take care, brother! The traitor is armed! He can see well!"

Ivan Ogareff had risen, and, believing that he had the advantage over a blind man, he threw himself upon Michael Strogoff. But with one hand Michael seized the arm of him who could see well and with the other, turning aside his weapon, he threw him a second time to the ground.

Ivan Ogareff, pale with fury and shame, remembered that he was carrying a sword. He drew it from the scabbard and returned to the combat. He had also recognized Michael Strogoff. A blind man! He had only, in short, to deal with a blind man.

Nadia, terrified at the danger which threatened her companion in such an unequal struggle, ran to the door, calling help. "Shut that door, Nadia," said Michael Strogoff. "Do not call any one, and let me do it. The courier of the czar has nothing to fear today from this wretch. Let him come at me if he dare. I am waiting for him."

Meanwhile Ivan Ogareff, gathering himself together, as it were, like a tiger did not utter a word. The noise of his step, his very breathing, he would have wished to keep back from the ear of the blind man. He wished to strike him before even he had any warning of his approach, to strike him with a certain blow. The traitor did not dream of fighting, but of assassinating him whose name he had stolen.

Nadia, frightened, yet at the same time confident, contemplated with a sort of admiration that terrible scene. It seemed that the old coolness had come back to him. Michael Strogoff had as his only weapon his Siberian knife, and he could not see his adversary, who was even armed with a sword. But by what favor from heaven was he able to overpower him?

Ivan Ogareff glanced at his adversary with a visible anxiety. That superhuman calmness worked upon him. In vain, appealing to his reason, he kept saying that in the inequality of such a combat all the advantage was in his favor. That immovableness of the blind man completely froze him. He had sought with his eyes the place where he must strike his victim. He had found it. Who, then, was preventing him from giving the finishing blow? At length he made a blow and thrust his sword full at the breast of Michael Strogoff.

An imperceptible movement of the knife of the blind man turned the blow. Michael Strogoff had not been touched and coolly seemed to wait another attack without, however, challenging it.

A cold sweat ran from the face of Ivan Ogareff. He recoiled a pace, then made another thrust. But the second blow, like the first, fell harmless. A simple parrying with the large knife had sufficed to turn aside the sword of the traitor. The latter, mad with rage and terror before that living statue, fixed his terrified look on the large open eyes of the blind man. Those eyes that seemed to read the very bottom of his heart and which could not see—those eyes seemed to have for him an awful fascination.

Suddenly Ivan Ogareff gave a cry. An unexpected light had entered his brain.

"He can see!" cried he. "He can see!" And, like a deer trying to re-enter its cave, step by step, terrified, he retreated to the lower end of the room. Then the statue took life. The blind man walked straight to Ivan Ogareff, and, placing himself in front of him, said: "Yes, I see—I see the blow of the knout with which I have marked you, traitor and coward! I see the place where I am going to strike you. Defend your life! It is a duel which I condescend to offer you. My knife will suffice me against your sword!"

"He sees!" said Nadia. "God of mercy, is it possible?" Ivan Ogareff felt himself to be lost. But suddenly, taking courage, sword in front, he rushed upon his impassible adversary. The two blades crossed, but at the first clash of the knife of Michael Strogoff, grasped firmly in the hand of the Siberian hunter, the sword flew in pieces, and the wretch, pierced to the heart, fell dead to the ground.

At that moment the door of the room, pushed from the outside, opened. The grand duke, accompanied by some officers, showed himself on the threshold. The grand duke advanced. He recognized on the ground the dead body of him whom he thought to be the courier of the czar and then in a threatening voice he asked:

"Who has slain this man?" "I," replied Michael Strogoff. One of the officers placed a revolver to his head, ready to fire. "Your name?" asked the grand duke before giving the order to shoot him dead.

"Your highness," answered Michael Strogoff, "ask me rather the name of the man stretched at your feet." "That man I have recognized. He is a servant of my brother. He is the czar's courier." "That man, your highness, is not a courier from the czar. He is Ivan Ogareff."

"Ivan Ogareff!" cried the grand duke. "Yes; Ivan the traitor." "But you—who are you?" "Michael Strogoff."

A WORM KILLER.

J. A. J. Montgomery, Paxico, Wayne county, Mo., writes: "I have little twin girls who have been bothered with worms all their lives. I tried everything to relieve them which failed until I used White's Cream Vermifuge; the first two doses brought four worms from one of them, the next two doses, twelve, one of them measuring twelve inches; the other child was relieved of four worms. It is a most excellent medicine." White's Cream Vermifuge is good for children. It not only destroys worms, it helps the child to perfect growth, wards off sickness. 25c at DuBois, Kolb and Co.
